

Top Three Security Themes at RSA Conference 2016 (Video)

With Senior Vice President of Global Security Services, Chris Richter

BROOMFIELD, Colo., March 4, 2016 /PRNewswire/ -- RSA is where the world gathers in San Francisco to talk security. Chris Richter, senior vice president of global security services at Level 3 Communications (LVL3) reveals the industry's most pertinent themes at the 2016 conference. In the video, Richter touches on these topics:

- Malware proliferation and the new deception detection technology he likens to "sandboxing on steroids."
- Security Costs are escalating. Organizations once spent about three percent of its IT budget on security; now that number is about eight times more. But money doesn't create a silver bullet fix.
- Cyber Education and the lack thereof. Humans remain the weakest link for every organization.
